

alpha particles
stopped by a sheet of paper beta particles

stopped by a layer of wood, a sheet of aluminum, and in some cases by clothing

gamma rays
pass through human tissue; stopped only by a lead shield or several feet of concrete

